Hi everyone,

I've attached the first cut of the Bristol Bay web feature story on the scientific specifics behind our assessment. Thanks a million to Phil for his help in getting this draft together.

It's longer than I expected, but I think the information in there is all valuable. I tried to keep the right short, crisp and to the point--if I didn't succeed, let me know.

I started with this group because I think you'll have valuable input on the content. Perhaps Marianne or Judy can share it with the rest of the team after you look at it. Marianne, let me know how you'd like to proceed with the editing and posting of this story.

Hanady
